NEW PRINCIPAL NOTES

More edu

In the not too distant future, "With high school education will not be spiraling enough. Everyone will either go to college or have a two-year all the technical post-graduate course."

This is what the newly appointed principal of Essex County's Vocational and Technical High School for Girls believes, and this is what 31-year-old Rosalie Cavallo will work toward.

A pretty, blue-eyed blonde, Miss Cavallo advocates technical vocational training for girls.

SEARCH FOR GOAL

"Many students who take the general course find themselves saying after high school, 'Now what?'"

"Our students not only complete their academic work, but are skilled when they graduate. They can easily find such jobs as beauticians, dressmakers, artists and business machine operators."

Miss Cavallo, who was graduated from East Orange High School, said she always, since she was old enough to want to be something, wanted to be a teacher.

She was graduated from Montclair State Teachers College and obtained a master's at Columbia. Eight years ago she joined the staff of the Vocational and Technical High School.

SHE PREPARES

"I began to take courses to prepare myself for the job of principal and to qualify as a guidance counselor."

A simple line drawing of a bird, possibly a crow or raven, perched on a nest. The nest is constructed from numerous thin, light-colored sticks or twigs arranged in a cup-like shape. The bird is dark grey or black, facing right, with its head slightly turned back. It has a pointed beak and small feet gripping the edge of the nest. The entire scene is set against a plain white background.
